HK20 BUBI LAMP

The HK20 Bubi Lamp was designed by Henning Koppel in 1972. The lamp clearly reflects Koppel's sculptural mode of expression with its curvy, drop-like shape comprising a lampshade of opal acrylic and a chrome- or brass plated top and socket. HK20 Bubi Lamp offers glare-free light to illuminate small-scale areas and can hang from the ceiling, singularly or arranged in a collective formation, or be placed directly on its casing.
